JEFFERSON HIGH GRADUATE CLASS BREAKS RECORD

Standing room was at a premium on last Wednesday evening at the Jefferson Union high school when forty-nine members of the class of 1929 received their diplomas. This was the largest class ever graduated from Jefferson. The stage was most tastefully decorated with flowers.

The graduating class, Jefferson pioneers, made a very attractive and effective group. The boys were all dressed in white flannels and dark coats, while the girls looked like so many flowers in their pastel colored gowns.

The "Directors' March," played by Glenvin Meadows, was the music to which the class marched in by. They came in couples, Dorothy Cooke and Hugo Irons heading the procession.

The invocation was given by Rev. James P. Donohoe, followed by an address of welcome from Louis Andersen, president of the class of '29. In his speech he welcomed the guests who were witnessing the graduation, and thanked the faculty for the help they had given to the senior class during their school years. He expressed the thanks of his classmates to the parents who, often by sacrifice, had made this night possible for them.

Fred Millhauser, accompanied by Mrs. Millhauser, entertained the audience with a masterful rendering of two violin solos, "Dance Tziganes" and "Estraletta."

'The Frontier of History," or the high life of the pioneer about a hundred years ago, were described by Albert Ambrosio. "Pioneers of 1929," or the modern idea of pioneers, was explained by Martha Johnson. She said that usually when the word pioneer is mentioned, one thinks of a rough, uncultured person. But nowadays this is not so; anyone experimenting in science, medicine, or unsolved problems is a pioneer.

Carl Kalash, from Polytechnic high school, accompanied by Eugenia Foster, gave two violin solos, "Perludium and Allegro" and "Valse Bluette.'"

Dr. F. P. Woellner of the University of California at Los Angeles, the speaker of the evening, gave a most entertaining address on "After Graduation, What?" He warned the students never to get in a rut by too much work, but on the other hand not to spend all their time thinking. They were told to follow the course of the wise man who worked awhile and then thought awhile.

Principal James Ferguson then presented the class, and told them that if they never remembered any other words he ever spoke, to remember these from the same book that Dr. Woellner quoted from, "Honor thy father and thy mother, that thy days may be long in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee." It was to their parents that these graduates owed their presence on the stage that night. The sacrifices of father and mother made their high school life possible.

Mr. Truman Bentley, president of the board of trustees, and Mrs. Stella Jensen, clerk of the board, next conferred the coveted diplomas. Rev. John Stevenson gave the benediction.

Following are the names of those who received their diplomas:

LOCAL RESIDENTS MEET WITH ACCIDENT ON ALTAMONT PASS

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ray, of 14 Vendome avenue, who are visiting in Ione, California, met with a painful accident last Friday morning when their machine was struck by a skidding automobile on Altamont Pass, the Ray machine being badly wrecked. Mr. and Mrs. Ray were badly cut by flying glass about the face, neck and hands. The other occupants of the car, Mrs. Thompson, of Ione, Mr. Ray's sister, was injured internally and suffered two fractured ribs, and Mrs. Kirk and Miss Rose Dounes, also of Ione, were badly bruised and skaken. They were all taken to the Livermore hospital by passing motorists and given first aid treatment.

PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. MAXIMUS

St. Maximus church, on Wellington avenue, was the setting for a very pretty wedding solemnized last Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when Miss Kathleen Regan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Regan, of Brunswick street, became the bride of Mr. John Matzek, the Rev. Father James Donohoe conducting the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Lynch.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin crepe de chine, with flounces of silk lace. The veil fell from a cap of lace trimmed with culsters of orange blossoms, and the bridal bouquet was of gardenias, bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lillian Rusting, sister of the bride, the matron of honor, wore an orchid satin crepe de chine gown and carried pink roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Marie Denhart, wore a green taffeta gown with dainty pink roses hand-painted on the flowing skirt. She carried red roses.

Mr. Anthony Matzek was his brother's best man, and Mr. Edward Trier was usher.

Mrs. Loretta Johnson sang "Ave Maria" during the ceremony.

A reception and wedding dinner followed the ceremony, at the bride's home, which was beautifully decorated in pastel shades of crepe paper streamers and huge baskets of spring flowers. The young couple received many handsome gifts.

Mrs. Matzek, who has a wide circle of friends, has lived in the Crocker Tract since childhood, and Mr. Matzek is the popular superintendent of the H. H. Smith Lumber Yard, where he has been employed for several years.

The bride and groom left on Monday afternoon for a month's motor trip through the eastern states, and upon their return will reside in their pretty bungalow on Hillcrest Drive.

WOODROW WILSON-VISTA GRANDE P. T. A. MEETING

The regular meeting of the Woodrow Wilson-Vista Grande P. T. A. was held last Tuesday evening at the Daly City Methodist church on Vista Grande avenue, President Mrs. F. Rickmann presiding.

The invocation was given by Rev. Woodall, pastor of the Daly City Methodist church, followed by the salute to the flag and singing of the P. T. A. song.

A yearly report was read by all officers of the association, Mrs. Rickmann and Mrs. Sherwood giving an extensive report on the state convention held last month at Sacramento.

Under new business, the officers for the coming term were installed by the president of the Seventeenth district, Miss V. Roussel, who also presented the past president, Mrs. F. Rickmann, with a past president's pin. Mrs. L. Brown, the first president of that association, was also presented a pin.

The newly installed officers are: President, Mrs. C. Page; Vice-President, Mrs. Roy Smith; Secretary, Mrs. E. E. Foss; Treasurer, Mrs. L. Light; Historian, Mrs. M. Sherwood; Parliamentarian, Mrs. F. Rickmann; Musician, Mrs. H. Secore.

After the meeting adjourned, all were invited to the banquet room, where dainty refreshments were served. Interesting remarks were given by M. Rickmann, E. E. Foss, Mr. Light and Mr. Sherwood. Mr. Foss led the gathering in community singing, which was greatly enjoyed by all.

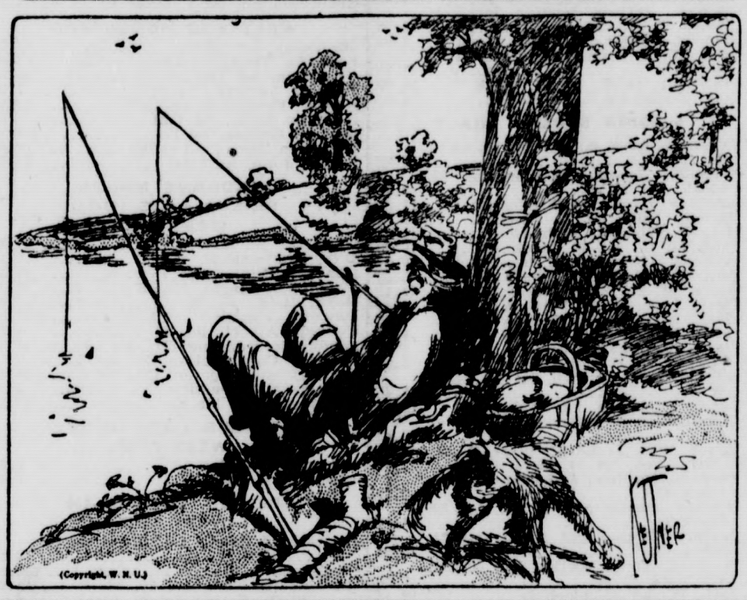
It is of much interest to the members of the P. T. A. of the Seventeenth district to know that this district was awarded two of the prizes given by the state association at the annual convention held in Sacramento last month. One was a banner for selling the most emblems according to the percentage of members, Mrs. Lippman being chairman of that committee; and the other was an award of $50 to Mrs. Shappard, chairman of the magazine committee, for securing the most subscriptions to the P. T. A. magazine.

CALVARY MISSION PLANNING FOR AN ACTIVE SUMMER

Old man "Summer Slump" is due to receive a knockout blow at Calvary Mission this summer. A program is being arranged that will make folks wish they didn't have to go on a vacation. One of the big items is the "Vacation Church School." All the boys and girls that attended last year are enthusiastic about it, and many more are expected this year, as the facilities are much better than last year. School starts June 24. All children are welcome to enroll, regardless of race, color, or creed.

Next Sunday being children's day, a program will be given by the children during the Sunday school hour. Mr. Gandy, free hand artist, will be present and will entertain the congregation with his illustrated lecture on the 23rd Psalm. He draws as he talks. Public worship at stated periods.

What June Days Are For



NEW INSTRUCTORS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Three new teachers were elected to the high school faculty at the meeting of the Board of Education on last Monday evening — Miss Katherine McKeown, of Daly City, Miss Bertha Holtz, of Danville, and Mr. Albert Biaggini, of Stanford University.

Miss McKeown will have charge of English classes for first and fourth year students as well as for those in the auto mechanics departmnt. She is a graduate of the University of California, and has been substitute teacher in English in the high school during the past term.

Miss Holtz is a teacher of experience. She is a graduate of the University of California, and for the past four years has taught music and physical education in the high school at Danville.

Mr. Biaggini will have charge of physical education for boys and will teach one or more classes in the academic subjects. He has had experience in all of the leading sports and is recommended not only for his athletic ability, but for his special fitness to guide and supervise the athletic activities of the boys.

All of these teachers hold regular high school certificates and are qualified to teach academic subjects in the course of study.

JEFFERSON ALL STARS WIN TENTH STRAIGHT

The Jefferson All Stars added the Porto Rican club of San Francisco to the string of victims, making it their tenth consecutive victory in as many games played. Chick, although handicapped by a bothersome arm, pitched superb ball and managed to make it his sixth consecutive victory.

The members of the team received what might be termed a sever shock at their meeting Friday, when they learned that Chick Pribula would no longer be a member of the pitching staff. The reason for his inability to continue, is an injury of a fractured leg which he sustained while playing mid-winter league ball two years ago. The team will certainly miss his services, as he was a very dependable pitcher. However, Chick will remain a member of the All Star team, which is one consolation to the team members.

The benefit dance, which has been looked forward to by the team for the past five weeks, will take place this Saturday night, at the Daly City Auditorium, and it is hoped that the hall will be filled to capacity. All the dancing enthusiasts of this community are invited to attend this dance, and spend an enjoyable evening. The music will be furnished by the Four Hot Tots, who will afford very entertaining dance music.

There has been a great deal of enthusiasm aroused among the baseball fans of this community over a game between the Merchants and the Jefferson All Star baseball team, on June 9. The managers of the teams have cancelled the contest, because neither team could come to a satisfactory agreement. There really should be no hard feelings, and both teams should remain the best of friends, as they are both representing the same community.

The Jefferson All Stars will probably obtain their suits this week, and will play at the high school grounds at 12 o'clock Sunday. All the baseball fans are invited to attend.

COUNTY FIREMEN WILL HOLD ANNUAL BALL JUNE 8

The members of the Associated Firemen of San Mateo County will hold their fourth annual ball next Saturday evening, June 8, at Pacific City. The proceeds will go towards betterment of fire protection and fire prevention in San Mateo county. Fire departments of nearly all San Mateo county cities, including Daly City, are affiliated with this organization, and a large attendance is expected. A number of Daly City people have announced their intention of being on hand, and are expecting a pleasant evening.

MERCHANTS VICTORS IN INTERESTING GAME

The large crowd that turned out to see the game at Jefferson high last Sunday witnessed one of the best ball games of the season. The Daly City Merchants' team defeated the Italian-American Club team of South San Francisco, 4-1. The entire Daly City team played wonderful ball. A bare-handed catch by S. Hawley in centerfield is the talk about town. Not too much praise can be given to Daly City's new pitcher, Randall, who was invincible. Maloney, Reardon and Keane did some timely hitting for the home boys.

BOARD ACCEPTS TOLL BRIDGE CUT

A new flat passenger rate and reduced freight rates will go into effect immediately on the San Francisco Bay toll bridge from San Mateo to Hayward, following the granting of the bridge company's application for lower tolls by the San Mateo county board of supervisors last Monday.

A standard rate of 45 cents for all passenger automobiles will replace the rate of 40 cents for two-passenger cars, 45 cents for five-passenger cars, and 50 cents for seven-passenger cars—the rate in effect in the past.

The change in freight rates is designed by the bridge company to aid the farmer and small truck-gardener bringing in his produce form the east bay valleys. Instead of a flat rate of 50 cents per ton for freight, 50 cents will be charged for the first three tons, 25 cents up to the sixth ton, and for every ton over, 10 cents.

For example, it costs the farmer $5 to take ten tons of freight across the bridge. Under the new rates it will cost $6.25—a saving of $2.25.

The board ordered bids called for construction of the new steel and concrete bridge across the San Francisquito creek, and adopted plans and specifications introduced by County Engineer George Kneese. The bids will be submitted in duplicate to San Mateo and Santa Clara counties. Both are bearing the cost of construction. It was intimated by Engineer Kneese that Stanford University would bear part of the cost. The span is estimated to cost nearly $30,000, and replaces the one wrecked by a bus early this year. It is 160 feet long, including approaches, and 35 feet wide. It is expected the span will be completed in time to accommodate the Stanford football games this fall. It is on the Mayfield road between the campus and the Portola road, providing one of the main outlets.

All bids submitted two weeks ago for street paving and installation of water and sewer systems in Millbrae, nine in all, were ordered rejected by the board, on motion of Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey. The board held that Millbrae was not yet ready for the improvements, following a recent meeting of Millbrae residents, who protested award of the contract.

A complaint registered by residents of the Menlo Oaks tract declared there were four streets in a radius of four miles named "Stanford avenue." The letter was referred to the district attorney.

Auditor J. J. Shields asked the board to prepare details for the 1929-1930 county budget.

Additional lights for the Golden West Park tract in the Bayshore lighting district were granted.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE UNITED IN MARRIAGE

The marriage of Miss Esther Forsell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Forsell, of 292 Los Olivos avenue, to Mr. Jack Junior Gillies took place last Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the Swedish Lutheran church at Fifteenth and Dolores streets, San Francisco, the Rev. Lundquist officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white chiffon crepe, the long skirt consisting of four flounces of silk tulle. Her veil, forming a cap, was edged with wide lace of lily of the valley design, and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley and orchids.

The maid of honor was Miss Elsie Forsell, sister of the bride. She wore a green crepe de chine frock and carried yellow roses.

Mr. Harold Iverson was the best man. The ushers were Arthur Nelson and Clarence Jensen.

A reception and dinner followed the ceremony, at the Stewart Hotel in San Francisco.

The young couple, who are now enjoying a two weeks motor trip, will make their home in San Francisco. The bride and groom have the best wishes of their many friends in this community, where the bride has lived since she was a year old, and has a host of friends.

HALF MOON BAY WILL CELEBRATE FOURTH OF JULY

The people of Half Moon Bay are making elaborate preparations for the celebration of Independence Day—the Fourth of July. As the people of that section are noted for their hospitality, it is expected a large crowd will make the trip to the coastside town on the Fourth to participate in the festivities.

George E. Dunn, publisher of the Half Moon Bay Review, has been selected to handle the publicity on this occasion. Manuel P. Dutra will look after the concessions, and Leo Hillings has been selected to take charge of the musical program of the day. It is announced that there will be an excellent sports program, under the direction of Dan Lembi and Marvin Cardoza. There will also be dancing, Edwin Bernardo and William R. Baldocchi having promised to see that those who care for dancing have the time of their lives. There will also be a parade, Col. Felix B. La Crosse and Alvin Hatch looking after this part of the day's program. Dr. Chas. L. Morgan has consented to act as master of ceremonies and the committee has secured that interesting and forceful orator, Horace Amphlett, of the San Mateo Times, for speaker of the day. There will be a reception committee, composed of Supervisor Manuel Francis and Fred A. Simmons, who will see that all visitors are well taken care of.

The committee declares that the celebration will undoubtedly be a huge success, it being simply a case of co-operation, and all citizens are expected to co-operate. The committee is sending out invitations to participate, in the form of a circular letter, but the lack of receipt of an invitation will not debar you from attending the celebration on the Fourth.

WEDDING OF INTEREST TO DALY CITY AND COLMA

In the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives, a wedding of much interest to Daly City and Colma was solemnized at St. Maximus church last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when Miss Mary Claire Damonte, of San Diego avenue, Daly City, became the bride of Mr. Frank Philip Garabaldi, of Colma, Rev. Father Lynch officiating, assisted by Rev. Father Donohoe.

The altar and chancel made a beautiful setting, adorned with potted palms and huge baskets of pink flowers. During the marriage ceremony Mrs. Loretta Johnson sang two numbers.

The pretty bride was given in marriage by her step-father, Mr. Bernard R. Servetto. She made a charming picture in her wedding gown of ivory French satin and long veil of tulle held in place by orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of gardenias, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Miss Josephine Damonte, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Corish, Miss Mary Corish, Miss Gertrude Murphy, and Mrs. Marian Sresovich. Miss Damonte wore a gown of green taffeta and tulle, with a picture hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of white gardenias. The bridesmaids were all dressed alike in pale pink gowns of taffeta and tulle, picture hats to match, and carried pink roses. The little flower girls, Dolores Bowen and Ardella Houghton, wore dresses of pink crepe de chine and carried baskets of pink and orchid sweet peas.

Mr. Dolph Sresovich was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Dave Boicilli, John Garabaldi, Frank Perata and Remo Boni.

Following the wedding ceremony the briday party, with relatives and intimate friends, motored to the Fior d'Italia Cafe, San Francisco, where a wedding dinner was in readiness.

At 7 o'clock a reception was held for the bride and groom at Colombo Auditorium, San Pedro avenue, Colma, where several hundred of their friends greeted the happy couple. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour, after which the bride and groom left for a two weeks honeymoon trip by motor in the southern part of the state, and upon their return will make their home in San Francisco.

Before leaving, as customary, the bride threw her bouquet and Miss Fabian Ver Linden was the fortunate young lady who caught it—meaning she will be the next bride.

Control of the state division of motor vehicles now rests with the State Department of Public Works, Gov. C. C. Young having signed an administration measure transferring it from the finance department. Frank G. Snook, chief of the motor vehicle division, remains in that capacity with a salary of $5,000 per year.

Herbert A. Yocom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Yocom of Arcata has been named one of three alternates in the Pulitzer prize awards in journalism and letters.

Following an investigation into complaints that stage companies are withholding collections on C. O. D. shipments much longer than necessary, the State Railroad Commission announced it was drafting a new set of regulations covering the matter. Some shippers had reported that collections were withheld for weeks and that the stage companies collected interest on the amounts.

The state seal, raised to a parity with the flag so far as its sanctity from abuse is concerned, must not be imitated either for advertising or less legitimate purposes, Governor Young decreed signing a measure fathered by Assemblyman Walter Feeley of Oakland, making its counterfeiting a penal offense. The new act is principally designed to prevent faking of official documents.

Reconstruction work has necessitated the closing of the state highway between Crockett and Port Costa for about two weeks. Traffic has been routed from Martinez to Crockett by way of Franklin canyon and Rodeo. Two inches of crushed rock and oil-bound surface will be laid on the roadway under repair. Similar work was done on the Martinez-Port Costa unit a year ago.

California automobile accidents resulted in the death of 529 persons, and injury of 7,380 during the first three months of this year, it was announced by Frank G. Snook, chief of the state division of motor vehicles During March, the last month on which complete state statistics are available, the death total was 167, and 2,194 children were injured. Northern Redwood Lumber Company of Korbel, Humboldt county, has received permission from the State Corporation Commissioner to issue $50,000 face value of its its first mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds to the Charles Nelson Company. The present block of bonds is part of an original indebtedness of $3,500,000, of which $2,650,000 had been previously issued. As of December 31, 1928, there were $2,145,300 of the bonds outstanding, $504,700 having been retired. The issue is secured by property appraised at $7,666,000.

The heaviest spring run of "Cutthroats" and "Half Breeds," ever experienced in the waters of Rush creek between Grant and Silver lakes, has just ended, according to touring bureau. The fish ranged from one and one-half to two and one-half pounds in size, while the number of eggs gathered has exceeded by several millions that of any previous year. In June Lake the single cast of a net by the Fish and Game Commission caught three hundred fish, the smallest of which weighed five pounds. This augurs well for a banner year at June Lake. In Cull Lake the fish, being Eastern Brook Trout, do not spawn until fall, although great numbers can be seen rising for the evening meal. The Eastern Brook Trout of Silver Lake, while more numerous than in the other lakes, are smaller in size. The Higher Lakes, Virginia Lakes group, and Lake Agnew, will not be open for fishing until about July 1.

THIRTEEN IS NOT UNLUCKY NUMBER

Pitcher J. Miljus Has Seen Much Service in Box.

They call Roger Hornsby a baseball nomad because he never settles in one place for very long. But Hornsby is as stable as a rock compared to one member of the Indians.

The great National league slugger has seen service with seven clubs since he broke into professional baseball. John Miljus has worked for thirteen, writes Gordon Cobbledick in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

John's baseball career started at the University of Pittsburgh in 1912. For three years he twirled for the Pitt nine and at the end of the 1914 season was signed by the New York Giants. The following season he jumped McGraw's outfit and signed with the Pittsburgh Federal league club.

That short-lived threat against the supremacy of the two major leagues went to smash and Miljus got a job with St. Mary's in the Interstate league, and the next year, 1917, found him with Brooklyn. The Robins farmed him out to Binghamton in the New York State league, and he promptly jumped again—this time into Uncle Sam's army.

The war over, he joined the Toledo Mudhens in 1919, and was back at Brooklyn in '20 and '21. The season of '22 he divided between New Orleans and Nashville in the Southern association. In '23 he was with the Rochester International leaguers and in '24 with Bridgeport in the Eastern league.

From Bridgeport he went all the way to Seattle and there, in the salubrious atmosphere of the Pacific Coast circuit, Big John seemed to find himself. He won 20 games in 1925 and in 1927 he crashed through with 12 straight victories and the Pittsburgh Pirates bought him in midseason.

In the middle of last summer the Pirates asked waivers on him and, in the absence of General Manager Billy Evans and Secretary Walter McNichols, a clerk in the Cleveland ball club office put in a claim for his services.

It developed, however, that a quirk of baseball law fixed his price at $16,500 instead of the established waiver price of $7,500. Cleveland tried to withdraw from the transaction, but the Pirates appealed to Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis and that high dignity ruled that the Indians must go through with the purchase.

There were chuckles all over the league and Miljus was called the $16,500 white elephant and similar uncomplimentary names. Then John began to pitch for the Indians and it became apparent that worse hurlers have been bought for more money. He took part in 11 games for Cleveland in the fag end of the 1928 season and, though his won and lost record wasn't impressive, the official average showed that he had allowed only 2.65 earned runs per nine-inning game.

Right now it looks as if Miljus will be one of the mainstays of the Indian pitching staff. He has a world of stuff, a good head and a great heart.

Uncle Sam Offers His Employees an Outing

Uncle Sam is preparing an outing for his employees this summer, through the co-operation of the Alaska railroad, which is operated by the government.

The outing embraces a specially conducted tour from the Capital to Fairbanks, Alaska, leaving Washington August 25 and returning 32 days later. The expenses of all kinds will be grouped under one lump sum, which will be between $520 and $550.

The entire round trip will total 11,000 miles of travel and will include both rail and steamship journeys. If sufficient people arrange to take the trip, special trains will be run from Washington to Seattle, and steamers from Seattle to Alaska will be run exclusively for the excursionists.

While Alaska is the principal goal of the trip, efforts will be made to show as much of the western part of the United States as possible. One day, for instance, will be devoted to sightseeing trips around Salt Lake City, and Columbia River gorge, in Washington, will be on the itinerary. The northern trip from Seattle will be through the famous scenic inside passage.

French and American Cities Closely Linked

An American city was officially represented at the impressive ceremonies held in Orleans, France, in celebration of the five hundredth anniversary of the raising of the siege of Orleans by Joan of Arc.

The city is that which the French colonists of Louisiana founded in 1718 and christened La Nouvelle Orleans.

The two cities of Orleans, old and new, have long maintained friendly relations. On the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of New Orleans her sister in France took part in impressive ceremonies, and in the following year received from New Orleans a bronze medal and later the embroidered silk flag of the city. The flag now hangs in the Hotel de Ville at Orleans. On anniversaries of the battle of New Orleans, old Orleans takes the flag out and flies it from the rooftop.

Bell as a Memento

When the ship John Milton was lost off the eastern tip of Long Island seventy-one years ago with her skipper and crew of twenty-three men, the vessel's bell was tossed among the rocks on the shore, resting in such a position that wind and waves made it toll dismally. The bell now is to be placed in the tower of the New Montauk Point Community church. The little building looks out on the spot where the John Milton foundered as she was returning to Boston from a trip to Peru.

FEWER SCHOOLHOUSES

Once America's pride, the "little red schoolhouse," with its barn-like single room and primitive equipment, is slowly but surely passing. More than 10,000 of these small district school buildings were abandoned in the last five years, their places being taken by modern consolidated schools.

With the rapid extension of good roads and the employment of motor busses for the transportation of the children to these larger institutions it seems inevitable that the one-room school, with its many handicaps, will more and more rapidly disappear.

While the district school must thus give place to a new and better system it has filled and is still filling a paramount role in the advancement of the nation. To the self-sacrificing labors of faithful teachers in these rural schools many famous men and women owe their early education and inspiration.

But the demands of progress must be met in education, as well as in all other phases of our increasingly complex civilization. The new and larger consolidated school, with its staff of better prepared teachers, its improved organization and its modern equipment will make an advance over the "little red schoolhouse" which must make for a more enlightened and efficient citizenship.

SCIENCE SEEKS TRUTH

Although liable to error as other mortals, the true scientist approaches every problem with an open mind unfettered by prejudice.

He has no ancient beliefs or superstitions to defend, no special cause to plead, no selfish interest to advance. He tries at all times to define so far as is humanly possible, the dividing line between fact and theory although he deals with both.

New theories are given respectful examination and if they can be proved they are assigned their places in the category of fact. And when the scientific world in general reaches an agreement in any matter, it is the best possible evidence of its truth. As Charles E. Hughes once said in addressing a scientific association:

"We need your interest in knowledge for its own sake; your ceaseless search for truth; your willingness to discard every disproved theory, however honored by tradition, while you jealously conserve every gain of the past."

While the scientific investigator, as a rule, receives meager material rewards in return for his services to mankind, all progress, both material and intellectual, has been primarily due to his labors.

Without the leadership of inquisitive, investigating and indomitable minds, we should not have advanced far beyond the standards of the cave man.

Most of the hard-boiled business letters are written by puny, undersized office assistants.

SUCCESS SECRETS

Recent wild speculation in stocks and the varying fortunes of the speculators brings to mind the career of Thomas W. Lawson, who died a few years ago, at the age of 67.

Lawson made $40,000 in a pool of railroad stock before he was 17. He lost this, but more than made it back before he was 20. In his career as banker and broker it is estimated that he made more than fifty million dollars at various times.

He was quite an author. In 1888 he wrote a book called "Secrets of Success," and for several years it appeared that no one was more capable of explaining these secrets than he. But finally his luck deserted him and he died in poverty.

We do not know much about the secrets of success, but we do know the secret of Lawson's ultimate failure. He was a gambler. He gambled for big stakes, and while he often made tremendous winnings through his stock manipulations, he finally lost—as all gamblers do if they play long enough.

CHILDREN SACRIFICED

From India comes news of further human life sacrifice to superstition. The young son of a native official fell sick and was thought to be possessed of the devil, whereupon it was sought to appease a local goddess and exorcise the devil by offering up the lad's sister as a sacrifice, which was done.

The boy failed to respond to this vicarious treatment, so he was bound naked near a holy place and allowed to die of starvation and exposure.

The boy's father and two brothers were sentenced to death for the crime and his sister-in-law was given life imprisonment.

While such proceedings appear heathenish to us today, and they certainly are heathenish, we may reflect that equally atrocious crimes were committed at Salem, Massachusetts, in 1692.

With the horrible Salem witchcraft delusion in mind, we should not condemn the benighted natives of India too hastily.

WOMAN SPORTS EDITOR

Miss Ladu believes that men sport writers do not treat women's athletics seriously enough, as they stress the sensational side and play up the pretty girls rather than the capable athletes who do not happen to be pretty. Besides, she says that much sport slang is unintelligible and therefore uninteresting to many women who have a real interest in sports.

The Times-Union's experiment will no doubt have many imitators in case it proves successful. And speaking of sport writers' slang—it isn't intelligible to a lot of the men folks, either.

TONS OF NARCOTICS

The World Conference on Narcotic Education declares that during a recent session of the advisory committee of the League of Nations, it became more than ever apparent that the unit of weight in the illicit drug traffic is neither the ounce, nor the pound, nor the hundredweight, but the ton.

The French delegate referred to a request submitted to his government, to permit the passage through France of a shipment of not less than four tons of heroin, the product of a neighboring country. Permission was refused. The Advisory Committee did not show any undue surprise at the existence of a lot of four tons of heroin, ready for shipment to the Far East, where it would have killed many victims or created new addicts.

These four tons of heroin represent some 240,000,000 doses of this most terrible drug, the traffic in which has become a world menace.

Because of the powerful forces at work to prevent a limitation of manufacture, the situation is very serious, and one upon which the Council of the League will some day have to bestow its attention.

Narcotic drugs present growing and terrifying danger.

SPELL IT "MUSCLE"

There are still a few editors, and others, who assume to exhibit superior knowledge by spelling it "Mussel" Shoals. They base their vagary on the supposition that this is the only correct spelling of the name of the bivalve from which the Shoals take their name.

As a matter of fact, the name of this marine animal is spelled either "mussel" or "muscle," as consultation of any standard dictionary will disclose. But "Muscle Shoals" early came to be recognized as the official form, as evidenced by that spelling on the following maps:

"A Correct Map of the Georgia Western Territory," published by C. Dilly Poultry in 1798.

"Map of the Tennessee Government from the Latest Surveys," engraved for Payne's Geography, 1799.

Smith's Atlas, published at Hartford, Conn., in 1843.

Morse's Geography, published by Harper Brothers, 1851 edition, etc.

All documents of the United States government employ the usual form as do all writers of standing, whether of newspapers, magazines, or books, excepting only the few who like to display their eccentricities.

The spelling of Muscle Shoals has long been settled, even though the disposition of the important development there has not.

BILLIONS IN THE HOLE

When one is in debt or has suffered a loss, it is a common expression to say that he is "in the hole" to that extent. The oil industry is declared to be literally as well as figuratively in the hole about four and a half billion dollars.

In plainer terms, it is stated on the authority of the American Research Foundation that since the beginning of the oil industry in 1859, twelve billion dollars have been spent in drilling wells, while only seven and a half billion dollars worth of oil has been brought to the surface.

During the last few years dry holes have cost operators an average of about $90,000,000 a year.

Of course, many people have become wealthy through successful oil production and these are the ones the public hears about most. The tremendous losses of the unlucky ones are seldom recorded in print. The bringing in of a big gusher is news, while the completion of a dry hole is merely an incident in the life of the unfortunate prospector.

NEW MONEY FOR OLD

It may not be any news to you to discover that your money has shrunk. Undoubtedly you have remarked before that the good old long-green would not cover as many purchases as it once did.

In a few weeks—sometime in July, to be exact—the Treasurer of the United States will be passing out through the banks and payrolls of the large business houses, somewhat more than 27,000,000 pieces of fresh, crisp paper currency, every note smaller by about one-third than any now in circulation.

This change will be the greatest turnover of a nation's money supply in a single brief season.

Simultaneously with the issue of the new and smaller currency, all the old bills that can be reached by the Government through the banks or otherwise, bills as familiar to the American people as the sunshine itself, will be gathered in. These will be checked, classified and recorded and then sent through the macerator.

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing is working night and day under full force to have this new issue ready for the usual hard usage. This means adequate drying and curing. There is now being produced six tons of the new money every twenty-four hours.

Correct this sentence: "He was a shiftless loafer before marriage, but now he is an industrious and thrifty husband."

RULES FOR CERTIFYING CITIZENSHIP ISSUED

New regulations to supplement the naturalization laws of the United States have been approved by the Department of Labor and will be put into effect on July 1, in accordance with the Act of March 2, 1929.

One of the most important features of the new law, in the opinion of the officials of the Department of Labor, is the provision for the issuance of certificates of citizenship to persons who have derived their citizenship through others, namely, children through the naturalization of their parents, women through the naturalization of their husbands, and stepchildren through the marriage of the mother to an American citizen. Heretofore there has been no provision of the law by which certificates of citizenship could be issued to persons who became citizens through naturalization of others, the law providing only for the original under a naturalization proceeding.

Another provision of the new law is that absence from the United States for a continuous period of one year or more during the period immediately preceding the filing of the alien's petition for naturalization breaks the continuity of required residence. For the first time in the history of the country photographs as a means of identification will be required on naturalization papers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Fischer and little daughter Sylvia and Bennie Hubrich motored to Capitola last Saturday, where they spent the week end at their summer home.

Miss Anna Rose Aricca, of South San Francisco, and Mr. Adolph Cecchi, of Colma, were married at Holy Angels' church last Sunday by Rev. Father Schenone.

Ray Batz, who spent the past year in Washington, returned home last week and is now working at Koehler & Chase Co., in San Francisco, teaching the "Fun Method" of piano playing.

Clark Williams, son of Mr. Edward C. Williams, of Yuba City, Sutter county, and formerly of Colma, spent several days of last week visiting at the home of his brother, Paul Williams, in Daly City. Clark called on many of his old school-time friends while here, who were very glad to greet him.

Mrs. Amelia Wallace, teacher at the Rockaway Beach school, was a visitor in Colma last Thursday morning on her way to visit Pansy Jewett Abbott at Redwood City. She had with her a miniature relief map of the coast, made by the children of the first to fifth grades of her school. It was made in a small box and was highly colored, a very clever piece of work and deserving of much praise. It is to be displayed in Redwood City, from where it will be sent to Sacramento and later abroad.

Mrs. M. P. Brown entertained the members of the Colma Girls' Club at dinner last Wednesday evening, after which the regular meeting was held and officers elected for the coming term. The new officers elected were: President, Pauline Shinazy; Vice-President, Anna Kennedy; Secretary, Elsie Wilke; Treasurer, Bertha Thiel. Plans were made for a theatre party to be held this Friday evening, at the Alcazar Theatre, to see "The Masquerader." This meeting was the closing of the club for the summer. Those present were Mrs. M. P. Brown, Mrs. A. M. Sheldon, Mrs. Pauline Shinazy, Mrs. Josephine Lambertson, Misses Esther Torello, Violet Ver Linden, Elsie Wilkie, Bertha Thiel and Alice Thiel.

Governor Young has signed Senate Bill 640, providing a punishment for "every person who wilfully, and with a malicious intent to injure another, utters any slander," either by radio or otherwise.

Officials of the Division of Fish and Game express satisfaction with the passage and the signing by Governor Young of the measure which prohibits the issuing of more permits for drilling oil wells on the beaches.

Among the bills signed by Governor Young the first of this week was one by Assemblyman Sewell of Whittier, appropriating $92,274 to meet the cost to the state of the recent outbreak of foot and mouth disease in Los Angeles county.

SPECIAL FEATURES BOOKED AT THE DALY CITY THEATRE

There will be two big special features at the Daly City Theatre for Saturday, with Dorothy Mackaill holding the lead off place with that big melodramatic thriller "The Whip," and Larry Gray and Flash the dog in a mystery detective story called "Shadows of the Night." At the matinee the last episode of the serial "The Fatal Warning" will be shown, together with the first episode of the new serial, "Vultures of the Sea." The Euclid Candy Company will present every kiddie at the matinee with a bar of Love Nest candy.

For Sunday, "Snooky" White and his players will offer a new departure in stage attractions, taking you back to the days of old when the thriller melodrammer was quite the thing. "Snooky" will present his version of "Dangerous Curves," with villains, hisses and everything that went in the old days to make a first class melodrammer. Don't fail to see it, for it promises to be screamingly funny. On the screen Sally O'Neill will appear in that comedy sensation "Broadway Fever." The usual short subjects will be on the same bill.

For Monday, Sammy Cohen will be the attraction with his new Fox fun special, "Plastered in Paris." Monday will also be Silvernite.

For Tuesday, with the Merchants' Guest Night, the screen attraction will be "Should a Girl Marry," with Helen Foster, star of "The Road to Ruin," in the leading role.

Wednesday will be Colleen Moore and Gary Cooper in "Lilac Time," together with that sensation the Screen-O fun game.

Emil Jannings will hold the spot for Thursday in "Sins of the Fathers," with Silk Pillow Night as an added attraction.

"NIGHT HOSTESS" COMING TO THE GEARY THEATRE

When "John Ferguson" moves out of the Geary Theatre, San Francisco, Saturday evening, June 8, a new play called "Night Hostess" will take possession of the stage, opening the following night, June 9. This is one of John Golden's successes and is credited with a long run in New York City. Golden has many successes to his credit. Dramatic fans will recall "Turn to the Right," "Seventh Heaven" and "Lightning," all of which have played in the west.

"Night Hostess" is a dramatic comedy that Philip Dunning wrote, with a plot that is unusual, inasmuch as the author has injected every phase of the "wild night life" into the story. It might be said that it contains all the elements of entertainment for there is a jazz band, singing, dancing, pretty girls, good and bad men and a hero with a heart as big as himself. The action throughout the play is intense, there is not a dull moment.

The play is peopled with a large and distinguished cast. Ruth Lyons, who has not been seen here in several years, plays Buddy Miles, and Bryant Washburn, of stage and screen fame, is cast as Chris Miller. Isabel Withers and Russell Hopton are also featured, while Eddie Foyer, Wm. H. Strauss, Kingsley Benedict, Floyd Agin, Virginia Bertrand, Francis Fuller, Lee Shumway and John de Weese have important roles.

MARION DAVIES THEATRE PRESENTS MONTE BLUE

Monte Blue, popular Warner Bros. star, is said to give one of the outstanding characterizations of his career in the new special production, "From Headquarters," at the Marion Davies Theatre, San Francisco, in which he appears as a dissolute soldier of fortune who has lived for many years in the tropics, fighting on whichever side would pay the most money for his services. Appearing in support of Blue in this dramatic story is a cast composed of some of the best actors of the present time. "From Headquarters" is a melodrama well worth seeing. It rings true.

STORY FROM THE START

Athol Meldrum, young Scotsman who tells the story leaves his mother and brother, Garry, to seek his fortune. At San Francisco, practically penniless, he takes a laborer's job, and meets a fellow adventurer whom he dubs, the Prodigal. The Prodigal is anxious to join the rush of gold seekers into Alaska, and Meldrum agrees to go with him after he (the Prodigal) comes back from a visit to his wealthy father in the East. Athol, in great need, is befriended by Jim Hubbard ("Salvation Jim"). When the Prodigal returns, the three men join the stampede into the Frozen North. On the boat is a young girl obviously out of place. She is traveling with her grandfather and a hard-looking couple named Winklestein who figure as her uncle and aunt.

"Poor old beggar," I thought; "I wonder if I cannot do anything for him." And while I was thus debating, a timid knock came to the door. I opened it, and there was the girl, Berna.

There was a nervous anxiety in her manner, and a mute interrogation in her gray eyes.

"I'm afraid he's a little sick today," I said gently; "but come in, won't you, and see him?"

"Thank you." With some words of endearment, she fell on her knees beside him, and her small white hand sought his thin gnarled one. As if galvanized into life, the old man turned gratefully to her.

"Maybe he would care for some coffee," I said. "I think I could rustle him some."

She gave me a queer, sad look of thanks.

"If you could," she answered.

When I returned she had the old man propped up with pillows. She took the coffee from me, and held the cup to his lips; but after a few sips he turned away wearily.

"I'm afraid he doesn't care for that," I said.

"No, I'm afraid he won't take it. Oh, if I only had some fruit!"

Then it was I bethought me of the box of grapes. I had bought them just before leaving, thinking they would be a grateful surprise to my companions. Obviously I had been inspired, and now I produced them in triumph, big, plump, glossy fellows, buried in the fragrant cedar dust. I shook clear a large bunch, and once more we tried the old man. It seemed as if we had hit on the one thing needful, for he ate eagerly. When he had finished and was resting quietly, she turned to me.

"I don't know how I can thank you, sir, for your kindness."

"Very easily," I said quickly; "if you will yourself accept some of the fruit, I shall be more than repaid."

She gave me a dubious look; then such a bright, merry light flashed in to her eyes that she was radiant in my sight.

"If you will share them with me," she said simply.

So, for the lack of chairs, we squatted on the narrow stateroom floor under the old man's kindly eye. She ate daintily, and as we talked, I studied her face as if I would etch it on my memory forever.

It must be remembered, lest I appear to be taking a too eager interest in the girl, that up till now the world of woman had been terra incognita to me; that I had lived a singularly cloistered life, and that first and last I was an idealist. This girl had distinction, mystery and charm, and it is not to be wondered at that I found a joy in her presence. Her mind seemed nimbly to outrun mine, and she divined my words ere I had them uttered. Yet she never spoke of herself, and when I left them together I was full of uneasy questioning.

It was on the third day I found the old man up and dressed, and Berna with him. She looked brighter and happier than I had yet seen her and she greeted me with a smiling face. Then, after a little, she said:

"My grandfather plays the violin. Would you mind if he played over some of our old-country songs? It would comfort him."

"No, go ahead," I said; "I wish he would."

So she got an ancient violin, and the old man cuddled it lovingly and played soft, weird melodies, songs of the Czech race, that made me think of romance, of love and hate, and passion and despair.

The wild music throbbed with passionate sweetness and despair. Unobserved, the pale twilight stole into the little cabin. The ruggedly fine face of the old man was like one inspired, and with clasped hands, the girl sat, very white-faced and motionless. Then I saw a gleam on her cheek, the soft falling of tears. I felt as if I had been allowed to share with them a few moments consecrated to their sorrow, and that they knew I understood.

That day as I was leaving, I said to her:

"Berna, this is our last night on board."

"Yes."

"Tomorrow our trails divide, maybe never again to cross. Will you come up on deck for a little while tonight? I want to talk to you."

"Talk to me?"

She looked startled, incredulous. She hesitated.

"Please, Berna, it's the last time."

"All right," she answered in a low tone.

* * * * * * *

She came to meet me, lily-white and sweet. She was but thinly wrapped, and shivered so that I put my coat around her.

"Berna!"

"Yes."

"You're not happy, Berna. You're in sore trouble, little girl. I don't know why you come up to this Godforsaken country or why you are with those people. I don't want to know; but if there's anything I can do for you, any way I can prove myself a true friend, tell me, won't you?"

She did not speak at once. Indeed, she was quiet for a long time, so that it seemed as if she must be stricken dumb, or as if some feelings were conflicting within her. Then at last very gently, very quietly, very sweetly, as if weighing her words, she spoke.

"No, there's nothing you can do. You've been kindness itself to grandfather and me, and I never can thank you enough."

"Nonsense! Don't talk of thanks, Berna. You don't know what a happiness it's been to help you. I'm sorry I've done so little. Can't I be really and truly your friend, Berna; your friend that would do much for you? Let me do something, anything, to show how earnestly I mean it?"

"Yes, I know. Well, then, you are my dear, true friend—there, now."

"Yes—but, Berna! Tomorrow you'll go and we'll likely never see each other again. What's the good of it all?"

"Well, what do you want? We will both have a memory, a very sweet, nice memory, won't we? Believe me, it's better so. You don't want to have anything to do with a girl like me. You don't know anything about me, and you see the kind of people I'm going with. Perhaps I am just as bad as they."

"Don't say that, Berna," I interposed sternly; "you're all that's good and pure and sweet."

"No, I'm not, either. We're all of us pretty mixed. But I'm not so bad, and it's nice of you to think those things. . . . Oh! if I had never come on this terrible trip! I don't even know where we are going, and I'm afraid, afraid."

"Well, Berna, if it's like that, why don't you and your grandfather turn back? Why go on?"

"He will never turn back. He'll go on till he dies. He only knows one word of English and that's Klondike, Klondike. He mutters it a thousand times a day. He's like a man that's crazy. He thinks he has been chosen, and that to him will a great treasure be revealed. You might as well reason with a stone. All I can do is to follow him, is to take care of him."

"What about the Winklesteins, Berna?"

"Oh, they're at the bottom of it all. It is they who have inflamed his mind. He has a little money, the savings of a lifetime, about two thousand dollars; and ever since he came to this country, they've been trying to get it. They'll rob and kill him in the end, and the cruel part is—he's not greedy, he doesn't want it for himself—but for me. That's what breaks my heart.

"Surely you're mistaken, Berna; they can't be so bad as that."

"Bad! I tell you they're vile. I should know it, I lived with them for three years."

"Where?"

"In New York. I came from the old country to them. They worked me in the restaurant at first. Then, after a bit, I got employment in a shirtwaist factory. I was quick and handy, and I worked early and late. I attended a night school. I read till my eyes ached. They said I was clever. The teacher wanted me to train and be a teacher, too. But what was the good of thinking of it? I had my living to get, so I stayed at the factory and worked and worked. Then when I saved a few dollars, I sent for grandfather, and he came and we lived in the tenement and were very happy for a while. But the Winklesteins never gave us any peace. They knew he had a little money laid away, and they itched to get their hands on it. I wasn't afraid in New York. Up here it's different. It's all so shadowy and sinister.

"I didn't mean to tell you all this, but now, if you want to be a true friend, just go away and forget me. You don't want to have anything to do with me. Wait! I'll tell you something more. I'm called Berna Wilo-vich. That's my grandfather's name. My mother ran away from home. Two years later she came back—with me. Soon after she died of consumption. She would never tell my father's name, but said he was a Christian, and of good family. My grandfather tried to find out. He would have killed the man. So, you see, I am nameless, a child of shame and sorrow. And you are a gentleman, and proud of your family. Now, see the kind of friend you've made. You don't want to make friends with such as I."

"I want to make friends with such as need my friendship. What is going to happen to you, Berna?"

"Happen! God knows! It doesn't matter. Oh, I've always been in trouble. I'm used to it. It's what I was made for, I suppose."

What she had told me had somehow stricken me dumb. There seemed a stark sordidness in the situation that repelled me. She had arisen when I aroused myself.

"Berna," I said, "what you have told me wrings my heart. I can't tell you how terribly sorry I feel. Oh, I hate to let you go like this."

Her voice was full of pathetic resignation.

"What can you do? If we were going in together it might be different. When I met you at first I hoped, oh, I hoped—well, it doesn't matter what I hoped. But, believe me, I'll be all right. You won't forget me, will you?"

"Forget you! No, Berna, I'll never forget you. It cuts me to the heart I can do nothing now, but we'll meet up there. We can't be divided for long. And you'll be all right, believe me, too, little girl. Be good and sweet and true and every one will love and help you. Ah, you must go. Well, well—God bless you, Berna."

"And I wish you happiness and success, dear friend of mine."

Suddenly a great impulse of tenderness and pity came over me, and before I knew it, my arms were around her. She struggled faintly, but her face was uplifted, her eyes starlike. Then, for a moment of bewildering ecstasy, her lips lay on mine, and I felt them faintly answer.

Poor yielding lips! They were cold as ice.

CHAPTER IV

Never shall I forget the last I saw of her, a forlorn, pathetic figure in black, waving a farewell to me as I stood on the wharf. The gray eyes were clear and steady as she bade good-by to me, and from where we stood apart, her face had all the pathetic sweetness of a Madonna.

Well, she was going, and sad enough her going seemed to me. They were all for Dyea, and the grim old Chilcoot, with its blizzard-beaten steeps, while we had chosen the less precipitous, but more drawnout, Skagway trail. Among them I saw the inseparable twins; the grim Hewson, the silent Mervin, each quiet and watchful, as if storing up power for a tremendous effort. There was the large unwholesomeness of Madam Winklestein, all jewelry, smiles and coarse badinage, and near her, her perfumed husband, squinting and smirking abominably. There was the old man, with his face of a Hebrew seer, his visionary eye now aglow with financial enthusiasm, his lips ever muttering: "Klondike, Klondike"; and lastly, by his side, with a little wry smile on her lips, there was the white-faced girl.

How my heart ached for her! But the time for sentiment was at an end. The clarion call to action rang out. The reign of peace was over; the fight was on.

Hundreds of scattered tents; a few frame buildings, mostly saloons, dance halls and gambling joints; an eager, excited mob crowding on the loose sidewalks, floundering knee-deep in the mire of the streets, struggling and squabbling and cursing over their outfits—that is all I remember of Skagway.

The Prodigal developed a wonderful executive ability; he was a marvel of activity, seemed to think of everything and to glory in his responsibility as a leader. Always cheerful, always thoughtful, he was the brains of our party. He never abated in his efforts a moment, and was an example and a stimulus to us all. I say "all," for we had added the "Jam-wagon" (A Jam-wagon was the general name given to an Englishman on the trail) to our number. It was the Prodigal who discovered him. He was a tall, dissolute Englishman, gaunt, ragged and verminous, but with the earmarks of a gentleman. A lost soul in every sense of the word, the North was to him a refuge and an unrestricted stamping-ground. So, partly in pity, partly in hope of winning back his manhood we allowed him to join the party.

Pack animals were in vast demand, for it was considered a pound of grub was the equal of a pound of gold. We were lucky in buying a yoke of oxen from a packer for four hundred dollars. On the first day we hauled half of our outfit to Canyon City, and on the second we transferred the balance. This was our plan all through, though in bad places we had to make many relays. It was simple enough, yea, oh, the travail of it! All days were hard, all exasperating, all crammed with discomfort; yet, bit by bit, we forged ahead. The army before us and the army behind never faltered. It was an endless procession, in which every man was for himself. There was no mercy, no humanity, no fellowship. All was blasphemy, fury and ruthless determination. It is the spirit of the gold-trail.

At the canyon head was a large camp, and there, very much in evidence, the gambling fraternity. On one side of the canyon they had established a camp. It was evening and we three, the Prodigal, Salvation Jim and myself, strolled over to where a three-shell man was holding forth.

It was Mosher, with his bald head, his crafty little eyes, his flat nose, his black beard. I saw Jim's face harden. He had always shown a bitter hatred of this man, and often I wondered why.

We stood a little way off. The crowd thinned and filtered away until but one remained, one of the tall young men from Minnesota. We heard Mosher's rich voice.

"Say, pard, bet ten dollars you can't place the bean. See! I put the little joker under here, right before your eyes. Now, where is it?"

"Here," said the man, touching one of the shells.

"Right you are, my hearty! Well, here's your ten."

The man from Minnesota took the money and was going away.

"Hold on," said Mosher; "how do I know you had the money to cover that bet?"

The man laughed and took from his pocket a wad of bills an inch thick.

"Guess that's enough, ain't it?"

Quick as lightning Mosher had snatched the bills from him, and the man from Minnesota found himself gazing into the barrel of a six-shooter.

"This here's my money," said Mosher; "now you git."

A moment only—a shot rang out. I saw the gun fall from Mosher's hand, and the roll of bills drop to the ground. Quickly the man from Minnesota recovered them and rushed off.

That night I said to Jim:

"How did you do it?"

He laughed and showed me a hole in his coat pocket which a bullet had burned.

Historians at Fault in Depicting Lenclos

Two stubborn mistakes are often made concerning a famous French lady, Ninon de Lenclos: First, that she was a wanton by nature, second, that she made of love an actual business. Both errors are cruel, both false to the fame this remarkable and glamorous lady won from her admirers, the many gallant, wise, great men who loved her in her youth, adored her to her dying day.

To understand the celebrated Lenclos you must understand her times. Truly to know her you must know her lovers. Her century she personified, fairly glorified. Her lovers she inspired and enriched. One of the most devoted of them has testified to the degree of true ladyship she attained and how in the salons she held in the last years of her life she was treated to the honors of a princely court. Count her not incorrigible if, in those same last years, when she was nearing ninety, she had still her lovers. After all, Prince de Leon had crossed uncharted seas to search in vain for a secret of youth that Ninon found at home in Paris.—Mentor Magazine.

Strange Dispensation

Why doth Fate, that often bestows thousands of souls on a conqueror or tyrant, to be the sport of his passions, so often deny the tenderest and most feeling hearts one kindred one on which to lavish their affections? Why is it that Love must so often sign in vain for an object, and Hate never?—Richter.

WHAT PIGS LIKE

"My poor head aches today," said Mrs. Pink Pig. "I have a pig headache."

"What's a pig headache?" asked Porky Pig.

"A pig headache," said Mrs. Pink Pig, "is a headache which a pig has."

"Ha, ha, joke, joke, grunt, grunt, squeal, squeal," squealed the other pigs.

"It's not a joke to have a headache," grunted Mrs. Pink Pig.

"You're unkind to my mother," said Master Pink Pig.

"You're very polite for a change," said Brother Bacon.

"Yes," said Pinky Pig, "you're quite a little gentleman pig."

"No one is paying any attention to me," said Sammy Sausage.

"What's the matter with you?" asked Brother Bacon.

"I said I wasn't feeling well, and you made fun of me."

"Well, think about me," said Porky Pig.

"Are you ill, too?" asked Sammy Sausage.

"Oh, no, I'm not ill," said Porky Pig.

"Then what are you, pray tell?"

"I Have a Pig Headache."

asked Sammy Sausage, squealing in a loud, high voice.

"You say you are not well and you say you are not sick.

"At least, you want us to think about you. What do you mean?

"You are very queer indeed."

"Rude pigs," grunted Porky.

"Oh," said Sammy Sausage, "I am sick. That is—I was sick.

"I am sick no longer, for I think it is meal time, and I do not believe in being sick around meal time."

"Oh, it's meal time, is it?" asked Mrs. Pink Pig. "I don't believe I feel sick, either.

"I believe my headache has all gone. It's really much better, anyway.

"I know what was the trouble. I felt ill from lack of food.

"My headache came from being hungry."

"And I felt sick because I was hungry," said Sammy Sausage.

"Then we're all feeling up to the good old pig standard, eh?" asked Miss Ham.

"We are," said Mrs. Pink Pig.

"We are," said Sammy Sausage.

Just then the farmer gave the pigs their dinner and from the way they ate it, no one would have thought there had been any sickness in the pig pen.

"Food is the best medicine in the world," said Mrs. Pinky Pig. "The very best."

"I agree with you, madame," said Sammy Sausage.

"We all agree with you," said Brother Bacon.

"Food, food, our joy in life is food," squealed Pinky Pig.

And Miss Ham said, as she grabbed a bite from Mrs. Pink Pig:

"Ladies may like diamonds, children may like toys, but pigs like food, food, food, food, and then—MORE FOOD, grunt, grunt, squeal, squeal."

OLD FOLKS SAY DR. CALDWELL WAS RIGHT

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice.

He treated constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a combination of senna and other mild herbs, with pepsin.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?

A bottle will last several months, and all can use it. It is pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. Elderly people find it ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles, or write "Syrup Pepsin," Dept. BB, Monticello, Illinois, for free trial bottle.

THINKING THINGS THROUGH

It has been said that, no matter how good it is, you can't work a plan unless you plan the work. The truth of this statement has been proven many times.

In the Scriptures we read that no man starts to erect a building without first sitting down and counting the cost, lest he build the foundation, then run short of money, and people will call him a foolish man.

Older people realize the value of thinking things through, whether they always do it or not. But we young people (the writer is twenty) often fail to see the value of planning in advance. We often start a thing and then don't finish it, merely because we did not think it through in advance.

Come Sunday evening to B. Y. P. U. and we will discuss "Thinking Things Through." B. Y. P. U. is the young people's group at Calvary Baptist Mission, 5724 Mission street. B. Y. P. Y. develops young leaders. Come and let us prove what we say. We meet at 6:45 p. m. I. L. S.

Rastus: "Here am a telegram from de boss in Africa. He says he is sending some lions' tails."

Circus Owner's Wife: "Lions' tails, Rastus? What are you talking about?"

Rastus: "Well, read it yourself. It says plain: 'Just captured two lions. Sending details by mail.'"

Hubby: "What's good for my wife's fallen arches?"

Doctor: "Rubber heels"

Hubby: "What'll I rub them with?"

A Home—The Best Investment

A man's first major investment should be in his home. It's the safest place, the most natural place to invest your earnings.

Scotchman belonging to Eleven Twelve faints. Gets a shine and suddenly discovers he has his brother's shoes on.

Good Coal saves you money. "Try Aberdeen."

"Oi've come to tell ye, Mrs. O'Malley, that yer husband met wid an accident."

"And what is it now?" wailed Mrs. Murphy.

"He was overcome by heat, mum."

"What? Overcome by heat in January?"

"Yes, mum. He fell into the furnace over to the foundry."

It's funny, but mistletoe works just as well at this time of the year as it did around Christmas.

Consider the mule—when he pulls he cannot kick, and when he kicks he cannot pull.

Realistic Drawing

"Smell anything, Grandmother?" inquired the youngster who was lying on the floor drawing.

Grandmother sniffed, and assured him that she did not.

He drew some more and then repeated his question. Again his grandmother sniffed the air.

"No, Johnnie," she said, "I don't smell anything. Why?"

"Well," said the lad, "you ought to, Grandmother. I've just drawed a skunk."
